A SHORT HISTORY

OF THE

Royal Academy of Music.

THIS Royal and National Institution, founded in the year 1822, through the patriotic exertions of John Fane (Lord Burghersh), eleventh Earl of Westmorland, was opened to the public on March 24, 1823, under the direct patronage of His Majesty King George IV., whose interest in its welfare was manifested by an annual donation of one hundred guineas. One of the last official acts of the monarch was the signing, on June 23, 1830, only three days before his death, of the Charter granted to the School. His successor, King William IV., was also a Patron of the Academy, and continued the pecuniary contribution to its funds. In 1834, by his royal command, the proceeds of the Handel Festival held in Westminster Abbey, at which the students of the Academy took part in the performance of "Israel in Egypt," were divided equally between the Royal Society of Musicians of Great Britain, the Choral Fund, the New Musical Fund, and the Royal Academy of Music, the Academy benefiting thereby to the extent of £2,250.

Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, on her accession to the throne in 1837, graciously continued the patronage and support extended to the Academy by her two predecessors, and, together with the late Prince Consort, honoured with her presence a Concert which was given for the benefit of the School in 1858.

While Prince and Princess of Wales, His Majesty King Edward VII. and Queen Alexandra conferred the highest distinction upon the Academy by graciously attending, in person, the Distribution of Prizes in St. James's Hall in the year 1897, and the Sovereigns still bestow the unbroken interest and Royal support which the Institution has enjoyed since its foundation.

On the lamented death of H.R.H. the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha in 1900 the Academy was honoured by the gracious acceptance of the Presidentship by H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught and Strathearn.

The objects of the Academy, as set forth in its Charter, are "to promote the Cultivation of the Science of Music, and to afford facilities for attaining perfection in it by assisting with general instruction all persons desirous of acquiring a knowledge thereof."

During the early part of its career, "Academic" Concerts for the benefit of the Institution were given by the Directors, in which, although the celebrated artists and musicians of the day contributed largely to the programmes, the orchestral class and a few of the more prominent students of singing took part. But it is worthy of mention that, as early as 1828, the Royal Academy of Music Students were permitted to give a Concert before King George IV. in St. James's Palace. In the same and also in the following year, a series of Italian Operas (the vocalists as well as the orchestra being composed entirely of Royal Academy of Music Students) took place in the English Opera House and King's Theatre; "Il Barbiere," "L'Inganno Felice," "L'Italiana in Algeria," "Il Matrimonio Segreto," and "Così fan Tutte" being the operas performed. The third and fourth performances in England of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony were given in 1835 and 1836, under the direction of Mr. Charles Lucas; also the first performance in England of Haydn's "Seasons." As the School developed, these performances were continued—first in the Hanover Square Rooms, and afterwards in St. James's Hall and Queen's Hall. Thus for many years the Students have been constantly before the public.

Since 1868 the number of Students has annually increased, and, as occasion demanded, additions to the building have been made. The concert room was enlarged to its present dimensions, and the lease of No. 5, Tenterden Street, acquired in 1876. Subsequently, a house in the adjoining street was taken, and again, in 1892, it was found necessary to add yet another house (No. 6, Tenterden Street) to those already occupied.

The curriculum, which includes tuition in all branches of music, and the study of elocution and languages, is comprehensive and complete.

The School has, since its foundation, never failed to retain its leading position, and within recent years the educational course has been augmented by the institution of the sight-reading classes; the operatic and dramatic classes; classes for ensemble practice; the students' fortnightly concerts; weekly lectures; and the addition of deportment, stage-dancing, fencing and physical drill classes.

Owing to the great and increasing interest taken in the Dramatic Class and the marked ability displayed by many of the Students in acting and elocution, the Committee have, with a view to the further encouragement of these Arts, decided to permit each of them to be made a subject of principal study in connection with a suitable musical curriculum in either case.

For many years the Royal Academy of Music held Local Examinations throughout the kingdom, which were popular and lucrative. In order, however, to raise the standard of these examinations and assist the public towards the elimination of defective instruction in music, the Royal Academy of Music entered into negotiations with the Royal College of Music for combined action in the matter. These negotiations happily resulted in a union of the forces of the two Institutions for the purposes of Local Examinations in Music, and the formation, in the year 1889, of the "Associated Board," under the Presidency of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales.

The work of the "Associated Board" of the two great Chartered Schools of Music has already produced excellent results. The scheme includes the Local Examination of Schools, as well as "Local Centre" Examinations, and has recently been extended to the Colonies.

The Academy continues its own separate Examination in London (independent of Academy Teaching) of Music Teachers and Performers. This is known as the "Metropolitan Examination." Successful Candidates at this Examination, which increases annually in popular estimation, receive Diplomas certifying to their proficiency, and are created, by the Directors, Licentiates of the Royal Academy of Music.

During over eighty years of a useful existence, the work of the Academy in the cause of musical education has been, with the assistance of many eminent musicians and lovers of music, conducted successively by its Principals, Dr. William Crotch, 1823; Mr. Cipriani Potter, 1832; Mr. Charles Lucas, 1859; Sir William Sterndale Bennett, 1866; Sir George A. Macfarren, 1875; and Sir Alexander Campbell Mackenzie, 1888.

The number of Students who up to the present time have received either their complete or partial musical training within its walls is computed at over 6,000. The growth of the School may be estimated by the fact that whereas in the year 1823 only twenty Students were admitted, the number now under training is usually over 500.

Past Students, many of whom have risen to positions of eminence and distinction, have, in the course of their respective careers, extended the good work, not only in Great Britain, but in the Colonies and in India; and it is a gratifying fact that the connection with their Alma Mater is rarely, if ever, severed either by the lapse of years or by the distance which may divide them. Space does not permit of the enumeration here of more than a few of those who have distinguished themselves in their profession since leaving the Academy. Amongst many others whose names are to be found in the lists of Fellows* and Associates,* the following may be mentioned: Mathilde Bauermeister, Dora Bright, Mary Davies, Agnes Larkcom, Kate Loder, C. A. Macirone, Marian McKenzie, Julia Neilson, Charlotte Sainton-Dolby, Clara Samuel, Charlotte Thudichum, Alwina Valleria, Maude Valérie White, Hilda Wilson, Edith Wynne, and Agnes Zimmermann; H. C. PAYING STUDENTS.

Ordinary Paying Students are admitted at the commencement of each Term and Half-Term. Before entering, they are examined by the Principal or Curator.

This Examination is in no sense competitive, and persons are accepted as Students provided they give evidence of careful preliminary training or of sufficient natural ability. The objects of the Examination are (1) to enable the Principal to judge as to the general fitness of a candidate for acceptance as a Student; (2) to ascertain the degree of proficiency already attained by the candidate; and (3), if accepted, to make the necessary arrangements for Professors and Classes.

The fee for this Examination is 1 Guinea, which amount should be forwarded, with the printed form of application for admission (enclosed herein), at least three days before the date of examination. If the applicant become a Student, this fee is considered as part payment of the entrance fee of 5 Guineas.

The appointment of Students to the various Professors is left absolutely to the discretion of the Principal, who, however, as far as possible, endeavours to meet the wishes of Students in this respect.

Students are not admitted for a shorter period than three Terms, nor, except as stated in the following paragraph, for less than the ordinary curriculum.

A limited number of Wind Instrument Students are received for a modified course of study at a proportionately lower fee. (See p. 14.)

To obtain the highest awards of the Academy, a course of at least three years' study is requisite.

At least fourteen days' notice of the removal of a Student is required.
